

Nine Tail Fox
Charles G.

I am devoted to gaming. My biggest challenge in life has been a learning disability that kept me from reading on grade level. I also have bipolar disorder and often experienced mania that interfered with my ability to sleep and in time, has led to depressed episodes.

The mania has also contributed to anger issues. My coping skills in my recovery are my games I play and occasionally doing some art. My art is inspired by anime. I am self-taught, and this piece shows my unique perspective on life.
