Birmingham, AL (June 20, 2018) - Alabama Regional Medical Services, best known as ARMS, will host a Community Day on Saturday, June 30th. The event will be held at the Northside Piggly Wiggly located at 2500 29th Ave North, Birmingham, AL, 35207 from 9 am to 12 pm. Free health screenings will be provided to the community and 95.7 Jamz will be on site with their satellite vehicle playing tunes.

The purpose of the event is to promote the opening of the newest location, ARMS Northside Health Clinic, and to let the surrounding areas know that ARMS is there to provide affordable healthcare to all.

CEO Anthony Gardner is looking forward to the expansion of the ARMS healthcare centers. He stated "the opening of the new ARMS Northside Health Center is a huge step towards providing healthcare to all of those that are in the Birmingham metropolitan area. We welcome patients, old and new, with open ARMS." The following healthcare services are provided by ARMS, regardless of a patient's ability to pay: Primary Health Care, OB/GYN, Pediatric, Behavioral/Mental Health, Black Lung Screenings, Dental, and Podiatry services.

Alabama Regional Medical Services is a HRSA FTCA deemed, Community Health Center that has been serving the greater Birmingham area since 1983. ARMS offers a variety of health services at affordable costs to the entire family.
