National Recovery Month recognized at event

Alexa Knowles Sep 6, 2018

In observance of National Recovery Month, Recovery Fest 2018 will be Saturday, September 15th at Battleship Park from 9am until noon. It will be a day filled with fellowship, food, music, kids' activities, inspiring stories of recovery and more, all for free. The event is put on by FAVOR of Coastal Alabama.

National Recovery Month is held every September to educate Americans that substance use treatment and mental health services are available for those with a mental and/or substance use disorder, to help them live a healthy and rewarding life. Anyone interested can register on the Eventbrite page.

FAVOR of Coastal Alabama is a nonprofit whose mission is to promote long-term recovery from substance use disorders through advocacy resulting in healthier individuals, families, and communities.
