BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (WIAT) -- Next week, The Arc of Central Alabama will hold its second annual "Be-You-Tiful Birmingham" Fashion Show and Brunch. The show celebrates inclusion and features children and adults with intellectual and developmental disabilities.

The event creates awareness and promotes acceptance of people with I/DD in the community. Models range in age from 7 years old to people in their fifties. Many have had an interest in fashion and the show gives them a chance to explore their talents in the area.

"Be-You-Tiful Birmingham" is Friday, February 16th at The Florentine. It runs from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and features brunch foods and beverages, a silent auction, prizes and the latest in Spring fashions from Belk at The Summit.

Tickets and support opportunities are still available. Tickets are $75 each and all proceeds go to The Arc of Central Alabama. You can purchase a ticket by clicking here.
