The Alabama Department of Mental Health, Office of Consumer Relations and The Alabama Directions Council are proud to announce the annual RESPECT Awards. Respect Awards are given each year at the Annual Alabama Recovery Conference to individuals who are consistently respectful and supportive to individuals with mental illness. Respect is an acronym for the characteristics of the recipients of the Respect Award.

The RESPECT Award winners are chosen by a committee made up entirely of consumers. The RESPECT Award winners will be honored at the Annual Alabama Recovery Conference on Monday, April 22, 2013, at Shocco Springs.

Nominations are open to any individual who is responsible for the care of individuals with mental illness including mental health professionals and others employed in the mental health field, volunteers, fellow consumers, and family members. Nominations may be submitted by anyone, must be in writing, and should not exceed two pages.

The 2013 Hope Award

The Hope Award is awarded to an individual or organization for their statewide efforts to unify and benefit the various stakeholders in the mental illness arena in Alabama. The winner of the Hope Award will be honored at the Annual Alabama Recovery Conference on Monday, April 22, 2013, at Shocco Springs.

Nominations for the 2013 Respect and Hope Awards will be accepted at the Alabama Office of Consumer Relations until
