V Mission Statement

It is the mission of the Dothan Houston County Intellectual Disabilities Board, Inc. to provide or to assist in securing the provision of comprehensive services that are unique to each person, protect individual rights, dignified, respectful, and demonstrate achievement of desired outcomes for individuals with intellectual disabilities that reside in Houston County.

VI Vision Statement

The philosophy which guides the planning, development, implementation, and evaluation of services for people with intellectual disabilities is based upon the use of natural supports in promoting identity, personal security and continuity for people served by the Agency to include the following elements:

Individuals with intellectual disabilities are first and foremost, people with basic human needs, aspirations, desires, and feelings; second, citizens of a community, who are afforded all the rights, privileges, opportunities and responsibilities that are accorded other citizens; and finally, includes who happen to have a disabling condition.

People with intellectual disabilities are recognized as having diverse needs, concerns, strengths, motivations, goals, and abilities which can best be addressed through natural supports and the coordinated and cooperative efforts of an interagency network of human services providers.

Natural supports include families and friends as well as community resources such as local agencies, clubs, places of worship, schools, or other places where new and existing relationships can be built and facilitated outside of the Agency. Family units, both traditional and non-traditional, are frequently the most important resource and support to individuals with intellectual disabilities.

The rights, wishes, values, and needs of individuals served, their family members and friends are paramount in planning and operating the intellectual disabilities services system. The planning process should include:

- Promoting visits to the homes of families and friends and visits of families and friends to people's homes. The person's health, safety, and well-being should be considered while planning visits.

- Input from current and prospective service users in the development of the Agency's Mission and Values Statements and Agency operations, to include required or desired changes. Documentation used for receiving input from individuals receiving services will be individual satisfaction surveys. The process to provide feedback to individuals receiving services will be the individual support team meeting. All information will be communicated in a manner that is easily understood by the individual receiving services.

The system is sensitive to other members of the intellectual disability population.

For the majority of individuals with intellectual disabilities, the natural setting in the community is the best place for providing services.

Local communities are the most knowledgeable regarding their local environment, issues, strengths or gaps in the service system, and opportunities.

Staff and volunteers who work effectively with individuals with intellectual disabilities are highly regarded and valued resources of the system. They receive training to develop and/or improve skills to support the individual's communication and contact with natural supports, especially family members and friends.
